Definition and certification of the warranty period

The duration of the warranty period, normal or extended, begins at the time of sale to consumer / end user of the product. The supporting evidence for the moment the sale is to the consumer / end user of the product, which, for this purpose, will produce original proof of purchase.

In the absence of proof of purchase, for the respect of the guarantee period of Atlas products and wide, it is the date of production.

Marcato reserves the right to use its archives relating to the placing on products market, in compliance with the regulations in terms of confidentiality of data, both for the challenge, both for the approval of the documents proving the sale and, in more broadly, for the actual recognition or denial of treatment under warranty.

In case Marcato uses its archives in favor of approval of treatment in warranty, this intervention is considered the service offered by Marcato exceptionally unatantum, and as such can not constitute the same obligation for future assistance.

Warranty conditions Marcato - Warranty Limitations

In compliance with the regulations, the following restrictions apply equally to normal warranty terms and conditions of extended warranty.

Guarantee restrictions based on the type of failure

The warranty conditions, also extended, do not apply, except as provided by law, and Marcato therefore has the right to request and obtain the payment by the User of a amount of reasonable value to cover the costs of the intervention performed (defined at assistance), in case of interventions required for the repair of failures of the tool or its parts of the type shown in the following points:

- Failure caused by accidental events;
- Faults caused by use of equipment so evidently improper, that is not covered by the operating instructions supplied with the product;
- Failure caused by use of accessories not provided for in the instructions for use or not compatible;
